Messy Church

It was great to see all our Messy Church Families again after the long Christmas break, and new families too, and to wish them all a Happy New Year! We had a wonderful afternoon of fun activities and crafts continuing our “I am” sayings of Jesus with “I am the true vine”. We had a lot of grape and vine focussed crafts including making a picture of a bunch of grapes and a model of a grape vine. This was followed by a grape hunt whereby the children had to hunt for paper grapes around the church to make up their bunch with a chocolate “treasure” when complete! We made leaf prayers which we stuck on a vine and this can now be seen on the notice board in St Lawrence Church Hall. And, of course, there was a food craft made of icing sugar grapes!! The children also had the chance to see the Messy Church Wreath which we made in December for the Friends of St Lawrence Christmas Wreath Festival.

Our next Messy Church will be on ...

Keeping it in the Family

On Christmas Eve we welcomed nearly 1500 people to our services. We were delighted to be able to have the donkey outside for each one and to have a real baby loaned to us for each one too. Baby Jared, the grandson of Debra Chalk was the baby Jesus at one of the services. He followed in a long line of babies from the Chalk family who have all been baby Jesus. Debra Chalk recently posted on her Facebook page that 8 years ago it was Finn, 15 years ago Nathaniel, 30 years ago Eloise and 32 years ago it was Dominic.

Whilst the Chalk family may have the record for providing the most babies, the Southorn/Stratton family may have the record for covering the most roles. Emma Stratton has been Mary, Gabriel and the narrator; her Dad was a King; her brother David has been a King and also Joseph but not at the same time of course; her brother in law has been a King; her husband has been Joseph; her Mum, Brenda has been director and narrator. All four of Brenda's grandchildren have been involved as babies, a shepherd, a King or Gabriel. Several members of the Bunting/Bailey family too have also been shepherds, narrators, a King and Mary.

It does not matter if you have been in the nativity just once or loads of times or if you are the only person in your family to have had an acting role or a role behind the scenes, we are very grateful to you all for making it a very special nativity every year, thank you all.

BEN DIMOND - R.I.P.

7.10.38 - 9.12.24

Shortly before Christmas we learnt with great sadness that Ben Dimond had died.

Ben and his wife Hazel with their three young children Penelope, Rosemary and Joanna moved to Benmore farm in the 1970s, a small holding on the south side of Tom's Lane. Here they kept many animals, including donkeys and a Jersey cow, and lots of vegetables were grown.... a bit like "The Good Life" which was on TV at the time! Ben and Hazel's donkeys had starring roles at St Lawrence Church on Christmas Eves and Palm Sundays for many years. Ben and Hazel together with the three girls were stalwarts of life here at St Lawrence Church for about thirty years. Ben was heavily involved in our youth work, he frequently served on the PCC and also as a churchwarden.

During his professional life Ben worked initially with Lloyds Bank and then in London for what is now called BNP Paribas where he oversaw the computerisation of the bank in Britain. Ben had several brushes with ill health during this time including cancer and heart problems but he managed to overcome them.

Ben and Hazel fostered a young lad called Sean for a number of years. Sean is now 42 years old and he still keeps in touch from time to time.

Ben and Hazel moved to Winscombe in northern Somerset in 2002 where Ben became involved with helping out at the local village youth club, which was quite a shock to the system after fairly well-behaved church youngsters in Hertfordshire!

In recent years, Ben's medical diagnosis of Parkinson's and dementia necessitated Ben and Hazel's move in 2023 to St Monica's, a care home just outside Winscombe. It provided an independent living place for Hazel but with dementia units on the same site. Ben and Hazel's family which now includes six grandchildren were able to continue to share life with them both in their new homes.

Those of us at St Lawrence's who knew Ben were fortunate to have such a good example of how to live a full and committed Christian life. Ben's really was a life well lived.

Norman Meldrum

Your chance to get involved!

Have you ever wondered how the church runs: who makes all the decisions, who gets things happening?

It's not just the Vicar! We have churchwardens, and a Parochial Church Council which oversees everything that happens here. That PCC is supported by committees working in every essential area of the church's life. The committees are listed below – some of them are new this year. All of them are looking for people to get involved. Why not you?

Children and Young People – working with babies right through to 18 years

Discipleship – deepening everyone's faith, understanding the Gospel, growing in prayer.

Evangelism – introducing people to God and Jesus, and to our church family.

Finance – ensuring the parish has the resources it needs now and in the future.

Pastoral – looking after people, especially the sick, the poor, the bereaved, the lonely.

Property – maintaining and developing our wonderful buildings and grounds.

Social – making sure we celebrate well, and have a good time.

Standing – doing the big picture thinking and setting the agenda for PCC.

We can't do it unless we all pull together. How can you get involved?

Please speak to Peter, Helen or Tom about what role you might play.

From the Archives

I have recently had cause to look through the Parish magazines to search out the history of the Lych Gate. I thought it might be interesting to share with you the various entries that I found from 1901 -1902. Just to give the context you need to know that Queen Victoria died on 22nd January 1901 having reigned from 20th June 1837 until her death. In the November Outlook I quoted from the Church magazine of 1901 which talked about a meeting called on July 18th 1901 to consider building a Lych Gate as a fitting memorial to Queen Victoria. In January 2025 I quoted the article that said work had started on the building the Lych Gate. This is now the last entry from 1902...

'We must all be very glad to have in our midst a fitting memorial of the noble life and great reign of Queen Victoria. Not that we, who have, most of us, lived nearly all of our lives in that beneficent reign are likely to be forgetful of it, but we must be glad to have something to hand down to posterity to show how much we valued our privileges, and how highly we esteemed the noble woman and the great Queen. The idea of a Lych Gate was the happy suggestion of Mr. Armstrong, C.B., and we think that all will agree that the idea has been satisfactorily carried out in Mr Kinneir Tarte's beautiful design and in Mr Glenister's skilled workmanship. There is no need to give any description of the Gate, as our readers can all see it and appreciate it for themselves, but we hope that next month we may be able to include it in the picture on the cover of the Magazine. It is only necessary to say that the subscriptions so far received are not sufficient to cover the whole cost, and we hope that those who have not yet subscribed will do so to Mr. High, or put their offering in the Box in the Church. The Bishop of Colchester very kindly came and dedicated the Lych Gate on Tuesday May 13th when there was a very good congregation. The service was a simple and beautiful one, and in the course of it the Bishop gave a short address. The singing of the Choir in the Processional Hymn and in the Hymn at the Lych Gate was most effective. The Vicar still has some of the Forms of Service left which he will be glad to give to any who may wish to have them. The inscriptions on the Lych Gate, which were most kindly carved by the Misses Nellie and Florence Ward are: "O come, let us worship" and " A.D.M.G (to the greater Glory of God), in Memory of Victoria, Queen 1837-1901.'

This concludes the entries that appeared in the Church magazine from 1901 and 1902. We are currently looking at the Church porch and the restoration needed in that area but it will not be that long before we will need to do some work to restore the Lych Gate which is starting to show its age.

Carol Higgs

From the Vicar

What is it you value most about your parish church?

Is it our beautiful buildings: places of calm, somehow made special by years - centuries – of prayer, where so many momentous things have happened?

Is it our worship, whether the glorious Nine Lessons and Carols at Christmas, or the week in, week out, Sunday Eucharist?

Is it knowing that everyone can find a home here: from the toddler to the 90-year old, in our various groups and activities?

Is it the fact that whoever they are, people can come here and know they'll find welcome, friendship, a listening ear or practical help?

Or is it all the good that happens from here: a hospital built in Malawi, the bereaved comforted, the hungry fed?

I hope it is all the above and more.

How do you think it gets paid for? After all, weddings and funerals aside, there's no charge for any of this – it is all gift, just offered freely and gladly.

Offered by whom? Contrary to what people sometimes say, there is no government funding for anything we do, and we don't get paid by the national Church either. Indeed, it's the other way round: as reasonably prosperous communities, Abbots Langley and Bedmond make a big financial contribution to making sure that other places across the diocese (the two counties of Herts and Beds) can have church and ministry as we do here. That's part of what being the Church of England means, and we should be proud to do it.

No: everything that happens here depends on the generosity of the people who worship here, and our friends in the wider community. That means you, reading this. It is your money, freely given, that enables the life of our churches to happen. So I want to take this opportunity to say a big 'thank you' to everyone who takes part in that giving. Some of the generosity in our parish is amazing.

Maybe, though, you've not thought about your giving for a while. Or perhaps, you're quite new to the parish family and so have not yet started to offer financial support. Well, this month and next are a great time to do so. We're going to run what in church-speak gets called a 'stewardship campaign': that is, making a big effort to help people not only to understand the financial needs of the church, but to think of how what they do with their money is a vital part of their relationship with God. It's really striking that money was one of the things Jesus taught about most. 'Where your treasure is,' he said, 'there is your heart.'

Before going any further, two important disclaimers. Number one: Christian generosity is not just about what you give to the church. The church is important, of course – but God is at least equally concerned about the homeless, the prisoners, the environment, the poor... and your money should go at least as much to these as it does to the Church. Number two: nobody can tell you how much you should be giving. Everyone's circumstances are so different that any kind of general rule just doesn't work. It might even be that some of you need to give less than you currently do! Precisely what you give isn't really the key question. More important is that you've thought and prayed and come to a serious Christian decision.

So how might you do that? Well, let me suggest four key questions to ask yourself about your giving. They could be called the four 'R's':

- Is my giving regular? Do I give in a disciplined, routine way ... or just when I happen to turn up, happen to feel like it, happen to remember? If you really care about the church, and if you possibly can, make it regular. Be dependable. By far and away the easiest way to do so is to join the Parish Giving Scheme (details below.)
- Is my giving reviewed? Do I sit down each year (Lent is a good time) and think, is this level of giving still right? We have quite a few givers whose level of giving has not changed at all for fifteen, twenty or more years but, of course, the value of money has. They are giving less generously, quite unintentionally, because they didn't review.
- Is my giving real? Am I giving at a level which shows I really care? A rich person who gives £10 a week doesn't care very much; a poor person giving the same clearly does. Here's a useful test: imagine that by some strange chance, all the money you had given last year was suddenly returned to you to spend as you pleased. Would that be great news? Would it make a massive difference? Or ... not really? The answer goes a long way to revealing how real your giving is.

- Is my giving – every so often - radical? That is, just occasionally, I go above and beyond the reasonable, the steady, the predictable? Do I do something wildly generous, almost silly in its generosity? That's a good way of reminding ourselves that at bottom, what we're doing is a matter of love and not mere duty. There should be some space for sheer spontaneous joy in it. One good opportunity to do this might be when you're planning your will – why not give in such a way as to enable this church to do something quite extraordinary?

Those are the questions all of us will be encouraged to think about over the next few weeks in church. Please do reflect on them yourself. And then, crucially: act. Join the Parish Giving Scheme, or (if you can) increase your existing gift. Think about what legacy you might leave. That way, we can make sure that everything you love about this parish has a future, and we'll go on sharing God's love in this place for the generations to come.

To join the Parish Giving Scheme, please visit www.parishgiving.org.uk and search for 'Abbots Langley and Bedmond'. Alternatively, please call 0333 002 1260.

Children's Corner

Can you help the fruit find the correct box?

A large square maze with a complex path. On the left side, there are three fruit icons: a pineapple at the top, an apple in the middle, and a bunch of grapes at the bottom. Each fruit has a red arrow pointing into the maze. On the right side, there are three open cardboard boxes. The top box contains a red apple and has a red arrow pointing down into it. The middle box contains a bunch of purple grapes and has a red arrow pointing right into it. The bottom box contains a pineapple and has a red arrow pointing up into it. The goal is to trace the path from each fruit to its corresponding box.

Bedmond Bells Women's Institute

We started the new year at our January meeting with a very interesting talk from Nik Pringle from the Police Historical Society on solving murders in Hertfordshire. It was gratifying to hear that Hertfordshire has a lower average number than other counties and a high success rate in apprehending the perpetrators. The night of our meeting was very chilly and frosty, so we were very pleased to see those hardy members who braved the wintry weather, and there was lots of cake to keep us warm for the journey home!

Later in the month we held a successful Community Café in the Tin Church, serving a simple soup, filled roll and cake lunch. Again, the weather wasn't good, but fortunately that didn't deter people from attending, and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. We are planning to hold several more, on 20th February and 20th March, so watch out for the posters and notices nearer the time.

We are beginning to look at outings and visits for the summer months and planning how we can participate in the VE and VJ 80 project.

We also hope to take part in the Abbots Langley Carnival again this year and are already thinking around the theme.

We have a varied and interesting programme planned for our meetings for 2025 so if you would like to attend as a visitor, join us or would just like further information, do contact us as detailed below.

Heresy 101: A Lent Journey Through Error and Truth

This Lent, we invite you to join us for a lent group looking at some of the most famous heresies in the history of the Church. Our new group, Heresy 101: A Lent Journey Through Error and Truth, will look at classical heresies such as Arianism, Docetism, and Donatism, among others..

But why? Haven't these debates been settled? While the heresies themselves may feel distant, the questions they raise remain relevant. What do we believe about Jesus? How do we live out our faith? What does it mean to belong to the Church? These are issues Christians continue to discuss today.

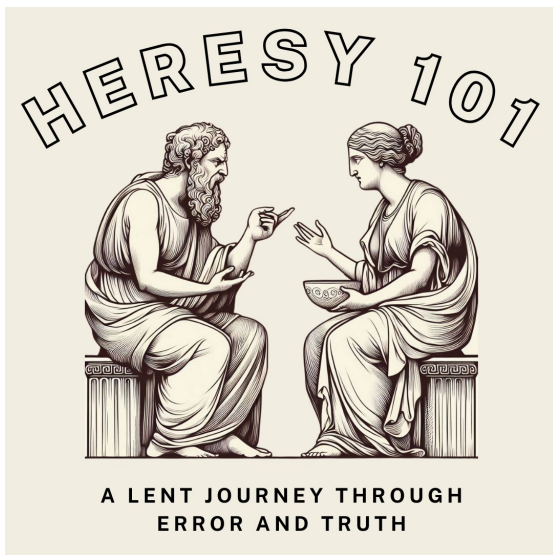

Each session will examine a specific heresy, the historical context in which it arose, and what it says about what the church does believe. We'll also reflect on how these ancient debates can help us recognise distortions of the gospel in our own time.

Whether you're new to theology or have been exploring it for years, you are so welcome.

What: Heresy 101

When: 6th March, 12:30pm

Where: The Breakspear Room,
St Lawrence Church

The Friends of St Lawrence

Christmas Wreath Festival: December 14/15th December

This was the Friends' second Christmas Wreath Festival and once again was a huge success raising over £825 in donations to enable the Friends of St Lawrence to maintain and repair our ancient Church building. It was a great community event with schools, nurseries, and youth organisations displaying wreaths along with Church and Village organisations and individuals. Pleasingly, more organisations displayed wreaths than last year.

The Friends' committee would like to say a huge thank you to all who made wreaths for the Festival and to all those who came along to see the stunning displays.

During the weekend, we asked people to write down their favourite wreaths and here are their answers:-

Schools and Children's organisations: 1st choice: Ash Class from Tannerswood, Joint 2nd choice: Little Fawns Preschool and Rainbows. Joint 3rd choice: Abbots Langley Key Stage 1 and Beech Class from Tannerswood.

Church Organisations: 1st choice: St Lawrence Craft and Conversation, 2nd choice: Friends of the Tin Church, joint 3rd choice: St Lawrence Choir & the Bell ringers.

Village Organisations: 1st choice Abbots Langley Carers, 2nd choice:

The Friday Singers, 3rd choice: A/L G and S Society

Commercial Wreaths: Elvira's at the Hub.

Individual Wreaths: Moira Bunting

Overall favourite choice: St Lawrence Craft and Conversation

Due to its success and popularity with the local community, we will continue to hold a Christmas Wreath Festival biennially; the next Christmas Wreath Festival will therefore be held in December 2026.... plenty of time to think up some exciting and creative wreaths!!
